8. All substitute motions and amendments must be presented in written form to the District Secretary. Material should be provided electronically when possible.

9. If a substitute motion is offered and seconded, the presenter will be offered two minutes to provide the rationale for presenting it. The convention will then first decide by majority vote without debate whether or not to consider the substitute. If the decision is in the affirmative and the substitute motion is subsequently adopted, the original motion fails; if the substitute motion does not receive favorable action either to consider or to adopt, the original motion is again before the house. (This is the so-called "Behnken rule" for dealing with substitute motions.)

10. The Convention may alter or add to the nominated slates. A floor nomination must be accompanied by written acceptance of nomination from the nominee and a brief biographical description of the nominee.

11. Elections: Except on the election of the President and the Vice-Presidents, the following regulations will apply: Candidates receiving a majority on the first ballot will be declared elected. When a second or succeeding ballot is required for a majority, the candidate receiving the fewest votes and all candidates receiving less than 15% of the votes cast will be dropped from the ballot, unless fewer than two candidates receive 15% or more of the votes cast, in which case the three highest candidates will constitute the ballot. When the number of candidates for an office is four or more times larger than the number of offices, then after the second ballot and for all subsequent ballots, the lowest 25% of the candidates will be removed from the ballot until all offices are filled by a majority of votes cast.

12. Unless covered by these standing rules of the convention, parliamentary procedure will be governed by the most recent edition of Robert's Rules of Order.

13. Portable telephones and other electronic communication devices are not permitted in the delegate section. Computers and hand held devices are allowed in the delegate area only if communication (wireless contact) can be and is turned off.
